Apologies were received from former Prime Minister H.E. Dr. Mari Alkatiri, Minister of Petroleum and Mineral Resources H.E. Alfredo Pires and Minister for Foreign Affairs and Cooperation H.E. Hernâni Coelho.

The Prime Minister welcomed all the commissioners participating and went on to explain the role of the entity, established under law as the supreme consultative body to make recommendations to the head of government on issues relating to the delimitation of maritime boundaries. Commissioners shared observations and insights on the maritime boundary issue with Minister of State Agio Pereira reflecting on the most recent developments.

A technical briefing was presented by the Chief Executive Officer of the Maritime Boundary Office. The office, currently set up in the Diplomatic Training Centre of the Ministry of Foreign Affairs and Cooperation, is responsible for the executive management of the Council and coordinates all efforts toward securing final boundaries.

The Consultative Commission and the Maritime Boundary Office along with the Negotiation Team are the three entities established by Government Decree Law on the Council for the Final Delimitation of Maritime Boundaries passed in April this year. The Council is a government agency accountable directly to the Prime
