Development Cooperation Report 2012

Preface

In 2011, the government of Timor-Leste released the Timor-Leste Strategic Development Plan 2011-2030 (SDP). This document lays out a vision for the nation and goals to help achieve it. Integral to achieving the SDP is the work of Development Partners (DP) in Timor-Leste and the alignment of their work to that of the Government's priorities. The following report was produced by the Ministry of Finance Development Partner Management Unit (DPMU), with the intention of looking at Development in Timor-Leste and those organizations engaged in helping to achieve the country's development goals. Therefore, we have divided the report into 3 sections.

- 1. Development Cooperation Overview
- 2. Donor Profiles
- 3. Ministry Profiles

The 2012 Development Cooperation report for Timor-Leste looks at development partner spending as a whole. Specifically, it examines how DPs are aligning to the SDP and the history of DP assistance in Timor-Leste. The Donor Report gives a background of bi-lateral and multi-lateral agencies operating in Timor-Leste, how DPs plan to participate in the future and what are the priorities of each organization. The Ministry Profile report examines how DPs have supported each ministry and will support ministries in the future. This includes identifying to which districts and sectors DPs have allocated money.

Data for this report was comprised with data taken from the Timor-Leste Aid Transparency Portal (ATP). The ATP was launched in 2012 and tracks financial data of all DP projects in Timor-Leste. Providing data for the portal is the responsibility of DPs and is updated on a quarterly basis. The Government of Timor-Leste is committed to continue working with DPs to continue the transparency initiative.

Overview of Agency

The Asian Development Bank (ADB), headquartered in Manila, Philippines with 30 offices globally, is dedicated to reducing poverty in Asia and the Pacific through inclusive economic growth, environmentally sustainable growth, and regional integration. Established in 1966, ADB it is owned by 67members - 48 from the region. Approximately 1.7 billion people in the region are poor and unable to access essential goods, services, assets and opportunities to which every human is entitled.

ADB is the leading international development finance institution dedicated to reducing poverty and improving the quality of life in the Asia and Pacific region. With about 3000 employees from 61 countries, ADB is focused on delivering projects that create economic and development impact through loans, grants, policy dialogue, technical assistance and equity investments.

Whether it be through investment in infrastructure, health care services, financial and public administration systems, or helping nations prepare for the impact of climate change or better manage their natural resources, ADB is committed to helping developing member countries evolve into thriving, modern economies that are well integrated with each other and the world.

Overview of Assistance to Timor-Leste

The overarching goal of the ADB in the Timor-Leste is Poverty Reduction. Economic growth has been a driving force in reducing poverty in the Timor-Leste. However, it is now apparent that not only the pace of growth but the pattern of growth matters, as such the strategic pillars. Timor-Leste has initiated a new development phase—funded by offshore petroleum revenue—that is pursuing a high rate of sustainable economic growth through the conversion of petroleum wealth into human and physical capital.

In 2011–2015, ADB will help the government achieve this fast tracking of development by supporting the upgrade of the country's infrastructure and complementary initiatives.

- Promoting pro-poor, sustainable growth
 - Boost productivity, diversify production, and stimulate off-farm activity.
 - Enhance access of SMEs and rural micro-enterprises to sustainable financial markets.
 - Improve the regulatory environment for the private sector, specifically for SMEs.
 - Prepare SOCBs for divestiture
 - Support new catalytic private investments in hydropower generation and tree plantations.
 - Through the GMS program, (i) extend and transform main transport corridors into economic corridors; (ii) build capacity to maintain the main transport network for safe and reliable use; (iii) expand access to reliable power supplies in the north, and increase opportunities for power trade along the north–south economic corridor; and (iv) facilitate trade and implement the cross-border transport agreement.
- Fostering inclusive social development
 - Integrated programmatic approach for the education sector.
- Good governance
 - Encourage the Government to (i) further enhance its regulatory and policy-making.

Development Partner Priority Sectors

- Infrastructure development
- Microfinance assistance
- Support for private sector development
- Skills training.

Overview of Agency

In 2012, the EU maintained its position as the biggest global ODA donor - accounting again for over half of the total ODA to developing countries as reported to the OECD/ DAC. This was achieved in the face of continued budgetary constraints owing to the on-going crisis. A key priority for the EU and its Member States is to respect the EU's formal undertaking to collectively commit 0.7% of GNI to official development assistance by 2015, thus making a decisive step towards achieving the Millennium Development Goals. Within the European Commission, EuropeAid is responsible for formulating EU development policy and defining sector policies in the field of external aid, in order to reduce poverty in the world, to ensure sustainable development and to promote democracy, peace and security. EuropeAid is responsible - either on its own or together with the European External Action Service - for the multiannual programming of the external aid instruments which it implements. EuropeAid is responsible for implementing the European Union's external aid instruments which are financed by the European Budget and the European Development Fund.

Overview of Assistance to Timor-Leste

The European Union as a whole - including Member States and the European Commission - has contributed around €900 million (USD $1.2 billion) to Timor Leste since 1999). The European Commission has committed more than EUR €344.30 million (USD $440 million) to Timor-Leste since 1999. On 19th December 2005, the National Parliament ratified the ACP-EU partnership / Cotonou Agreement, which is the most comprehensive partnership agreement between countries from Africa, the Caribbean and the Pacific [ACP] and the European Union (EU). In 2006 EUR €18 million from the 9th European Development Fund (EDF) was allocated for capacity building and rural development in the Manufahi district. Two years later, EUR €82 million from the 10th EDF was allocated to Timor-Leste for the period 2008-2013. As Timor-Leste economy relies mainly on agriculture, 54% are allocated to support sustainable rural development; 22% for capacity building mainly in the sector of Justice and Parliament; 12% for health; 9% allocated to other actions, particularly support to Non State Actors, and 3% for specific programmes with the Portuguese speaking countries of Africa (PALOP).

Following assessment of Timor-Leste's proposal for the Millennium Development Goals (MDGs) Initiative, Timor-Leste's allocation was increased by EUR €10.2 million (over $13 million USD) for the Support to MDG 1, target 1c and focusing more precisely on "Infant and Young Child Nutrition Security". This brings the total amount of Timor-Leste's EDF allocation 2008 – 2013 to EUR €91.2 million. Apart from the European Development Fund, Timor-Leste has been supported by external actions funded by the general budget of the European Community. Actions funded include, among others, programmes funded under the Development Cooperation Instrument such as the thematic programmes "food security", "investing in people", "non-state actors in development", "migration and asylum", "environment and sustainable management of natural resources, including energy", "water facility" and "energy facility", as well as actions funded from other instruments such as the "instrument for stability", the "instrument for the promotion of human rights and democracy" or the instrument for humanitarian and emergency assistance. The total volume of current on-going support is around €130 million (USD $163 million.

Development Partner Priority Sectors

- Sustainable rural development; improved food security and livelihoods of the rural population
- Health & Nutrition; contribute to the sustainable improvement of the Health and Nutrition status of the Timorese population.
- Institutional capacity building; contribute to the development of organizational and human capacity of the central institutions of the state.

Overview of Agency

The FAO is a United Nations agency specialized in food and agriculture, with a mandate to raise levels of nutrition, improve agricultural productivity, better the lives of rural populations and contribute to the growth of the world economy. It creates and shares critical information about food, agriculture and natural resources in the form of global public goods. FAO plays a connector role, through identifying and working with different partners with established expertise, and facilitating a dialogue between those who have the knowledge and those who need it.

Overview of Assistance to Timor-Leste

In Timor-Leste FAO is primarily an Executing Agency. For the past 11 years, FAO has been supporting the Government in the areas of emergency operations and early recovery from recurrent crises and natural disasters that have affected Timor-Leste since the country's independence. Since 2012, FAO has switched its focus from an emergency programme approach, to a development programme approach.

FAO priority areas where it shares its experience, expertise and knowledge to achieve results and impact on the ground include: food crisis early warning; trans boundary threats to food production, health and the environment detection and prevention; sustainable forest management; control of biosecurity risks to fisheries and aquaculture; establishing global entities to cope with land and water scarcity; boosting national capacity for generating and analyzing agricultural statistics; global standards, implemented through national policies and legislation.

Development Partner Priority Sectors

As set out in its Country Programme Framework 2013 - 2017, FAO will continue its support to the Government of Timor-Leste and will focus on the following priority areas:

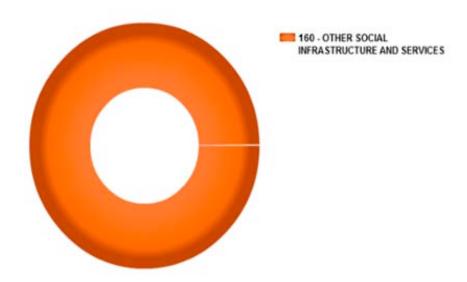

- Enhancing Food and Nutrition Security through Sustainable Agricultural and Nutrition Interventions.
- Increasing Value Addition and Income Generation Opportunities through Local Agribusiness Development and Improved Food Quality.
- Enhancing Management of Natural Resources and Response to Climate Change and Variability.
- Strengthening Institutional Capacity of the Ministry of Agriculture and Fisheries and Other Stakeholders of the Agriculture Sector.

Germany Overview

The wide range of services offered by the Deutsche Gesellschaft für Internationale Zusammenarbeit (GIZ) GmbH are based on a wealth of regional and technical expertise and on tried and tested management know-how. We are a German federal enterprise and offer workable, sustainable and effective solutions in political, economic and social change processes.

Most of our work is commissioned by, the German Federal Ministry for Economic Cooperation and Development (BMZ). However, GIZ also operates on behalf of other German ministries and public and private bodies in Germany and abroad. These include governments of other countries, the European Commission, the United Nations and the World Bank. We are equally committed to helping our clients in the private sector attain their goals.

Overview of Assistance to Timor-Leste:

Development cooperation between Timor-Leste and Germany began in 1999. GIZ received its first commission from the German Government to work in Timor-Leste as early as in the year 2000. It implemented income generation measures for the young, provided training and peace education to overcome central development constraints. Strengthening the economy in circumstances that are no longer characterized by violent conflict makes it possible to contribute towards improved subsistence farming and import substitution, for example in the case of food. Around 100 national and seconded personnel and two CIM integrated experts are currently working in the country for GIZ.

Current commissions implemented by GIZ fall under the focal area of peace- and state building. Better employment prospects, especially for the rural youth, make it easier to deal with social conflicts without resorting to violence. Employment is the key to escaping poverty and violence by offering sustainable alternatives for a peaceful and viable future.

An additional commission, which GIZ is implementing, is Technical Support to the Seaport Directorate of the Timorese Government by advising it on implementing international maritime standards. GIZ is presently also implementing a Rural Development Project commissioned by the European Union and an Agro-biodiversity Project co-funded by the EU.

Overview of Agency

The Global Fund to Fight AIDS, Tuberculosis and Malaria is an international financing institution dedicated to attracting and disbursing resources to prevent and treat these three diseases. The Global Fund promotes partnerships between governments, civil society, the private sector and affected communities. This approach relies on country ownership and performance-based funding, meaning that people in Timor- Leste implement their own programs based on their priorities and the Global Fund provides financing where verifiable results are achieved. The Global Fund was created in 2002 and is based in Geneva.

Overview of Assistance to Timor-Leste

The Global Fund has provided funding to Timor-Leste since 2003, commencing with grants to fund the national tuberculosis and malaria programs. Currently Global Fund grants provide significant funding support to the three national disease programs (HIV, malaria and tuberculosis).

Consensus based funding proposals are generated through a multi-stakeholder consultative process over-sighted by the Timor-Leste Country Coordinating Mechanism (CCM). (Stakeholders include government, civil society and people living with disease, partners and donors). Relevant country technical partners provide technical advice in proposal generation regarding the national epidemiological situation, country contextual issues, populations most at risk and best practice interventions. Funding proposals are reviewed by the Technical Review Panel based on eligibility (income classification, disease burden and CCM compliance with Global Fund requirements) and technical merit, and are then approved by the Global Fund Board.

The Global Fund seeks to prevent and treat the three diseases and strengthen the capacity of health systems more broadly, through provision of funding in line with the relevant National Disease Strategic Plan.

Development Partner Priority Sectors

- 2013 Grant Renewal for the HIV grant based on review of program performance and impact
- 2013 Grant signature to extend the TB grant until end 2015 through the Global Fund's Transitional Funding Mechanism
- 2014 Grant Renewal for the Malaria grant based on review of program performance and impact

Overview of Agency

The International Finance Corporation (IFC) is an international financial institution which offers investment, advisory, and asset management services to encourage private sector development in developing countries. The IFC is a member of the World Bank Group and is headquartered in Washington, D.C., United States. It was established in 1956 as the private sector arm of the World Bank Group to advance economic development by investing in strictly for-profit and commercial projects, which reduce poverty and promote development. The IFC's stated aim is to create opportunities for people to escape poverty and achieve better living standards by mobilizing financial resources for private enterprise, promoting accessible and competitive markets, supporting businesses and other private sector entities, and creating jobs and delivering necessary services to those who are poverty-stricken or otherwise vulnerable.

Overview of Assistance to Timor-Leste

In Timor-Leste IFC is helping local business owners form a national chamber of commerce to work with the national government in facilitating business regulations. IFC, through the Better Business Initiative, assisted in drafting the constitution and rules in establishing the first united chamber of commerce.

In addition to the progress made in building business unity and advocacy, IFC has supported the strong reforms in the area of business registration. This includes a recent circular by the Public Registry Department (PRD) cutting the number of documents previously required for a business to register, as there were no specific provisions for these documents in the current registration-related legislation in Timor-Leste. This clarifies what documents are needed to register a business. It also addresses the subjective and inconsistent nature of the registration process.

IFC also worked with the registrar on a decree, recently passed by the Council of Ministers, which speeds up the company incorporation process. This new legislation taking effect in February 2011 and is expected to reduce the time to register and incorporate a business from some 80 to 2 days (Timor-Leste is currently ranked 167 out of 183 economies in the 'Starting a Business Indicator' of the Doing Business 2011 Report).

Overview of Agency

The Korea International Cooperation Agency was founded as a government agency on April 1, 1991; to maximize the effectiveness of Korea's grant aid programs for developing countries by implementing the government's grant aid and technical cooperation programs.

Due to the continuously changing trends in development assistance efforts and practices, KOICA is striving to adapt to these changes by using its limited financial resources effectively in areas where Korea has a comparative advantage. In particular, Korea has the unique experience of developing from one of the poorest countries in the world to one of the most economically advanced, as recently demonstrated by Korea's entry into the OECD/DAC (Development Assistance Committee) on November 25, 2009. The know-how and experience Korea gained from this transition are invaluable assets that allow KOICA to efficiently support the sustainable socio-economic development of its partner countries and to offer them hope for a better world.

Overview of Assistance to Timor-Leste

From September 1999 till October 2003, the Republic of Korea dispatched its military unit, "Sangroksoo" to the Democratic Republic of Timor-Leste in an effort to contribute to strengthening the national defense of the country and ensuring public security. Korea has also pursued economic cooperation with the government of the Democratic Republic of Timor-Leste in order to further assist its economic and social development. The establishment of the Korean Embassy in 2001, the year of the independence of the Democratic Republic of Timor-Leste, along with a number of assistance and cooperation initiatives, has contributed to the friendly relationship between the two nations. We are now confident to declare that the current environment in the Democratic Republic of Timor-Leste is conducive to the active participation of the Korean government, its enterprises, and its citizens in the promotion of economic and social development.

- ii) Sustainable development and fight against poverty,
- iii) Cluster Cooperation

The choice of the strategic axes and intervention areas of cooperation with Timor-Leste have been identified from a review of priorities and targets agreed by the Governments of both countries, considering the commitments and targets established at national and international levels. The aim of Sweden's work in East Timor is to reduce poverty, increase opportunities for peace and security and to contribute to greater respect for human rights. Our areas of co-operation are based on East Timor's own priorities and are built on the analyses that we have made of the situation in the country together with other players.

In East Timor, access to the judicial system is limited, particularly for people who live in rural areas and especially women and children. Many are not aware of their basic rights and have little or no experience of democratic processes. To reach the most vulnerable groups, we are working to improve the capacity and structure at the local and regional level. We are doing this partly by supporting the United Nations Development Programme (UNDP).

The UNDP-run Justice System Program (JSP) is working to create a democratic judicial system in East Timor. Judges, prosecutors and lawyers have been trained and a basic data system has been created for all of the judicial systems' authorities in the capital, Dili.

The education system in East Timor has faced many challenges. In the last 10 years, it has completely collapsed twice. There are major deficiencies. We are supporting the work of the United Nations Children's Fund (UNICEF) in East Timor so that more children receive an education. UNICEF is driving several projects aimed at improving the quality of and access to elementary education, partly by training teachers and producing curricula and school material.

Overview of Agency

UNICEF is on the ground in over 150 countries and territories to help children survive and thrive, from early childhood through adolescence. The world's largest provider of vaccines for developing countries, UNICEF supports child health and nutrition, good water and sanitation, quality basic education for all boys and girls, and the protection of children from violence, exploitation, and AIDS. UNICEF is funded entirely by the voluntary contributions of individuals, businesses, foundations and governments.

Overview of Assistance to Timor-Leste

In response to the numerous challenges facing the education system following Timor-Leste's independence in 1999, the primary objectives of the Programme have been to: (1) assist in the development of a high-quality basic education system through curriculum development and reform, as well as capacity-building efforts at all levels to support development of a basic education system; (2) assist in advancing the Government of Timor-Leste's (Republica Democratica of Timor-Leste Government or RDTL Government) goal of universal access to education for all Timorese children through institutional capacity building and modernization of education management and information systems to address barriers to access; and (3) build youth capacities directly through programmes targeting literacy, life skills and participation. Consequently, the objectives of this evaluation, as specified in the Terms of Reference (ToR) underlying it, were to determine: (1) the relevance, appropriateness and coherence of the UNICEF Timor-Leste Country Office Education Programme as a whole; (2) the effectiveness and impact of the programme in relation to its objectives; (3) the efficiency with which its project outputs and activities have been delivered; (4) the connectedness of UNICEF"s programme to those of other actors; and, (5) the programme"s coverage and sustainability. The evaluation, though summative in focus (and therefore "backward oriented"), also sought to uncover potential areas of learning so that the programme might improve moving forward.

UNICEF requested that this evaluation examine each of the main projects and sub-projects subsumed under the programme. However, rather than only assess the effectiveness of each individual programme, UNICEF also requested that AIR examine the programme as a whole as its unit of analysis, framing its findings in terms of the programme so overall success in achieving its overarching objectives (e.g., increased access to high-quality basic education, youth literacy and life skills, participation of stakeholders in the educational process and so on).

On the ground in 177 countries and territories, we offer global perspective and local insight to help empower lives and build resilient nations. World leaders have pledged to achieve the Millennium Development Goals, including the overarching goal of cutting poverty in half by 2015.

UNDP helps developing countries attract and use aid effectively. In all our activities, we encourage the protection of human rights, capacity development and the empowerment of women.

Overview of Assistance to Timor-Leste

In Timor-Leste UNDP is primarily an executing agency. UNDP provides technical advice and assistance to build strong and capable public institutions at national and sub-national levels in justice, parliament, human rights, anti-corruption, police, economic development, environmental management, and disaster risk management that bring development, peace and justice to the population and reach out to the poor and vulnerable sections of society. UNDP's Country Programme Action Plan (2009-2014), developed in partnership with and approved by the Timor-Leste government, aims to build the foundations for lasting peace, stability and security.

UNDP works closely with the country's Human Rights and Justice Ombudsman, the Parliament, justice-sector institutions and the Anti-Corruption Commission, helping these organisations meet both current goals and plan for longer-term outcomes. In poverty reduction, UNDP helps women and men from poor communities to lift themselves out of poverty and to build sustainable livelihoods for themselves and their families through microfinance (with UNCDF), self-help savings groups, social businesses, including cooperatives and micro to medium-sized enterprises. With UNDP support, Timor-Leste completed its first National Adaptation Programme of Action for Climate Change (NAPA). The NAPA provides Timor-Leste with a roadmap to help the country deal with climate change, identifying risks and vulnerabilities and outlining a list of measures to work towards climate change resilience. Additionally, Timor-Leste has also developed a National Biodiversity Strategy.

Overview of Agency

In the 21st century, health is a shared responsibility, involving equitable access to essential care and collective defence against transnational threats. The WHO is the directing and coordinating authority for health within the United Nations system. It is responsible for providing leadership on global health matters, shaping the health research agenda, setting norms and standards, articulating evidence-based policy options, providing technical support to countries and monitoring and assessing health trends.

The World Health Organization (WHO) is a specialized agency of the United Nations with headquarters situated in Geneva, Switzerland. The WHO South-East Asia Regional Office (SEARO) is located in New Delhi, India, covers 11 countries, including Timor-Leste.

Overview of Assistance to Timor-Leste

In Timor-Leste, the WHO is primarily an executing agency. The WHO became involved in health development programmes in Timor-Leste soon after the country's independence. Now, the WHO's role has begun to shift from implementing specific health programmes, to supporting the MoH to build in-country capacity to formulate evidence-based contextually relevant policies and plans, and strengthen health systems for effective service delivery. In each of the strategic priorities, main focus areas for action have been identified along with strategic approaches to address the challenges while taking into consideration expected impact on the country's capacity, based on WHO's technical and financial contribution.

In health policy and systems (Strategic Priority 1), strategic approaches will include strengthening district health systems and health management information systems. In disease prevention and control (Strategic Priority 2), the WHO will focus on elimination and eradication of some communicable diseases and on diseases of public health concern. Efforts to reduce maternal and child mortality (Strategic Priority 3), will focus on support for the immunization programme and related activities, and on effective interventions, focusing on the health workforce, facility-based deliveries, quality of care, contraceptive choice, health education and Integrated Management of Childhood Illnesses (IMCI). Additionally, the WHO will help to strengthen nutrition and supplements and related interventions delivered through the district and community health centres. In overall capacity building (Strategic Priority 4), the focus of WHO's work will be on strengthening of national capacity based on the national strategic plan and policy framework and transfer of technical skills to national officials.

In partnership and coordination (Strategic Priority 5), WHO will increase its support to facilitate partnership coordination, leverage with donors by building on existing mechanisms, and facilitating the Government's involvement in partnership and coordination of external resources for aid effectiveness. In disaster preparedness the WHO will enhance its support to ensure adequate emergency preparedness and response (Strategic Priority 6).

Overview of Agency

The World Bank is a vital source of financial and technical assistance to developing countries around the world. Our mission is to fight poverty with passion and professionalism for lasting results and to help people help themselves and their environment by providing resources, sharing knowledge, building capacity and forging partnerships in the public and private sectors.

We are made up of two unique development institutions owned by 187 member countries: the International Bank for Reconstruction and Development (IBRD) and International Development Association (IDA).

The Bank had been present in Timor-Leste for nearly a decade since its independence and had stood at the side of Timorese people as they established the tenets of a modern state. During the last decade, Timor-Leste has made tremendous progress in health, education, youth and public finance management. Through Partnership with the World Bank and others, Timor-Leste has targeted youth and education, allowing more children to stay in school, with a decreased number in dropouts by two third between 2008 and 2010"

Overview of Assistance to Timor-Leste

The Bank had been present in Timor-Leste for nearly a decade since its independence and had stood at the side of Timorese people as they established the tenets of a modern state. During the last decade, Timor-Leste has made tremendous progress in health, education, youth and public finance management. Through Partnership with the World Bank and others, Timor-Leste has targeted youth and education, allowing more children to stay in school, with a decreased number in drop-outs by two third between 2008 and 2010."

The World Bank Country Partnership Strategy (CPS) for Timor-Leste has just been approved on 19 March 2013, and it will cover the years 2013 to 2017. The CPS is fully aligned with the Government of Timor-Leste's SDP and sets out a focused program of lending, analytical and advisory work, trust funds and convening services grouped around the four pillars in the SDP. The World Bank will assist the government to establish the building blocks for a non-oil economy through catalytic investments in priority sectors and demonstrable improvements in institutional quality and in the quality of public spending. In particular, the World Bank will help the government to:

- (i) Invest in the quality of health and education services and the effectiveness of social protection programs;
- (ii) Build core infrastructure to connect communities to services and markets and reduce transaction costs; and
- (iii) Support the development of a non-oil economy that creates jobs by improving the enabling environment for private sector investment and augmenting the productivity and value-added of agriculture.

Underpinning each of these activities will be a focus on leveraging knowledge to strengthen the capacity of public sector institutions to improve the quality of spending of the country's finite oil wealth. Each activity planned during the CPS period is designed to increase the government's capacity to deliver core services, by putting in place essential institutional building blocks – including systems and policies and a well-equipped civil service.

Overview of Agency

WFP is the food aid arm of the United Nations system. Food aid is one of the many instruments that can help to promote food security, which is defined as access of all people at all times to the food needed for an active and healthy life. The policies governing the use of World Food Programme food aid must be oriented towards the objective of eradicating hunger and poverty. The ultimate objective of food aid should be the elimination of the need for food aid.

Overview of Assistance to Timor-Leste

Through the MCHN programme, WFP is helping to reduce the infant and maternal mortality rates and improve the health of the most vulnerable. The country office, together with the Ministry of Health, is in the final stages of implementing a comprehensive registration system of beneficiaries countrywide, which will greatly assist in reaching the right people at the right place and time, whilst further improving monitoring and evaluation systems and planning, and preparing the Ministry of Health for a systematic handover of the programme by end of 2013.

In order to increase the capacity of Government counterpart agencies at all levels; WFP's assistance includes training on planning and implementation of food-assisted activities. WFP also initiated and supports the setup of sustainable systems aimed at improving long-term national capacity. These systems include a local facility to produce fortified blended food, effective disaster preparedness and response mechanisms and regular subsidized rice distribution mechanisms.

The technical assistance component of the Country Programme also covers renewable energy, which targets half of Timorese to use renewable energy by 2020. WFP's effort to improve cooking facilities for schools and storerooms for health facilities falls within infrastructure development. Lastly, the Technical assistance component aims to build the capacity of partner-ministries in lieu of WFP-anticipated phase-out by the end of 2013.

Development Partner Priority Sectors

The WFP focuses on the several important pillars, providing access to subsidized food to 100 percent of eligible population. Emergency responses to natural and human-incurred disaster, implement school feeding programme, implement health and nutrition programme.
